

Poems & Lyrics

Von ScarsLikeVelvet

Neverending Nightmare

It's a never ending nightmare
This nightmare called life
I lie here in the darkness
No light shines through the windows
Even in this bright daylight there is no light in my life
I can't hear the birds singing
I can't see the sunshine
Even when I sit right amongst the birds in the bright sunshine
Left alone here
No one visiting me
No one talking to me
I feel lonely
As lonely as one could be
Maybe I should help myself
Maybe I should leave this loneliness
Maybe I should walk through the sunlight
Maybe I should listen to the birds singing their songs
Maybe I should start to live again
Or maybe I should leave all like it is, was and ever will be

© S. Rabe 05-05-2007 15.10 Uhr